RED CROSS MEETING

A Report of The Work Done Since The War Ceased

NEW OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

The annual meeting of Middletown Branch of The Delaware Chapter, A. R. C., was held Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, November 5th, 1920, in the New Century Club House.

At this meeting was given the report of the American Red Cross, Delaware as a Chapter and Middletown as a Branch.

The delegates attending the Delaware Chapter annual meeting, Oct. 29th reported the work done by the American Red Cross since the war ceased. The distribution of American war stores and surgical dressings, being the only means of keeping open this year the hospitals of the War zone. The distribution of the clothing and food to the suffering from effects of war. The greatest sufferers mentally and physically being the children, which was indeed still a sad picture. The work done by the Sanitary Squads under the direction of the American Red Cross ridding various parts of Europe of disease, bespoke the highest praise of our American doctors and nurses remaining in those desolate places after the war, to do this great work (thus made Middletowners feel proud of its representation there during and after the war as Miss Louise McDowell, a Red Cross nurse, was not only abroad during the war but remained after caring for the Typhus patients.)

Report given by delegate of the Delaware Chapter of its peace time program. Health was of the Bureau of Hygiene, aiding in the nursing activities supplying nurse teachers and books for classes in schools and teachers for adult classes in Home Nursing and Hygiene, classes in first aid and the placing of Red Cross Public Health Community Nurses.

The Red Cross Motor Corps has placed throughout the chapter, cars for various activities of the Red Cross and other existing commissions or agencies, providing transportation for the Red Cross teachers in the schools of classes in Home Nursing, Hygiene and First Aid. Those occupied with Home Service Workers, Social Service of Red Cross and Hospitals, Children's Bureau and in the State Work, such as "The Delaware Child Welfare." In mentioning the car placed in Middletown for the State Child Welfare work, the chairman said that the car had been placed for State Child Welfare work and driven by the nurse in charge, but had turned out to be a community car as every opportunity had been embraced to aid the sick with its use irrespective of day or hour, and by its use not only the ill children had been transported but also suffering adults of tuberculosis to Hope Farm and Edgewood Sanitarium and various acutely ill; such as maternity cases, fractures of skulls and hips, typhoid fever, meningitis, appendicitis, and pneumonia. In conclusion the delegate said, now we feel Middletown's car is second to none placed in Delaware for whatever activity.

The report of the Home Service showed that many troubles of the home coming soldiers, sailors, and their families had been judiciously adjusted.

The report of the Publicity Chairman was short and needed no notes for the concise report of her work in making public the chapters work through the newspapers.

The election of the officers of the chapter was very quickly accomplished only one change being made and that was to fill the vacancy of the president made vacant by Gen. Bird's death. Hon. George Gray was elected to fill this vacancy, the other officers remaining the same.

Last upon the program of Middletown's meeting was the election of officers for the coming year. Those elected were: chairman, Miss Blanche Lockwood; vice chairman, Mrs. W. K. Betts; 2d vice chairman, Mrs. Clarence Pool; 3d vice chairman, Mrs. Martin B. Burris; treasurer, Miss Lillian Melvin; secretary, Miss Ethel Brady; advisory committee: Mr. Clarence Pool, Dr. W. S. P. Combs, Mr. W. K. Betts.

The Sunday next before Advent. The Fragments that remain. The title of to-day brings before us the solemn fact that we stand upon the threshold of another Christian Year. Behind us lie twelve months which have passed into history. The spiritual account of these days has been written down by the recording angel; and the thought quite clearly suggests itself: Are they for or against us? We have been granted, as a church and as individuals, three hundred and sixty-five days of great spiritual privileges. Many a blessing has been given us, and, God willing, another year of like opportunity opens out before us. In the Gospel for today, after our Lord had fed the multitude, He bade the Apostles gather up the fragments that remained, that nothing be lost. So after this year of privilege we must recall what the Holy Spirit has taught us. All that is necessary for us to know has been declared to the willing, unprejudiced attendant upon the services of the church. It is a solemn thing to come to the closing of this year, and looking back to recall the failures, the doubts, the sins, and the mistakes that we have made; but another year dawns, in which to retrieve those errors by a splendid victory over the world, the flesh, and the devil, and rise to a higher plane of living than heretofore. Gather up the fragments that remain, like the great St. Paul, we press forward, trusting in the church, believing in her Creeds, which are God given, contending earnestly, as good soldiers, for that Faith which was once for all delivered to the saints. No new revelation has been promised us, no reconstruction of the Creed is permissible; the church adapts herself to all ages, but knows no compromise with her faith, her doctrines, her orders, or her sacraments; and Christ has said to her: "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

CORN CLUB CONTEST

Six of the eight boys who entered the Boys' Five Acre Corn Club Contest in the Middletown community, and who have completed their years work in keeping records of their crop and results of their yields are: Victor Kohl, Jr., George C. Burge, Jr., Lester K. Burge, Daniel Bingnear, Irvin Armstrong and Gordon Armstrong. Victor Kohl, Jr., of the Levels, was successful in securing the largest yield of corn of any boy in New Castle County. He had a yield of 77.24 bushels of crib dry, shelled corn per acre. He was pushed closely by Gordon Armstrong, of McDonough, who grew 75.43 bushels of shelled corn per acre. The lowest yield was at the high figure of 63 bushels per acre, which is a creditable yield in any year or in any state. The average yield of corn of the six boys was 69 bushels per acre which is more than 2½ times that of the average yield of the state of Delaware.

The winner of the contest in each county will be given a free scholarship to the Junior Short Course held at Delaware College the last week in December under the direction of the Delaware College Extension Service. These scholarships are offered through the Delaware Corn Growers' Association who have supervised the contest in cooperation with the County Farm Bureaus, Delaware College Extension Service and the Vocational Agricultural schools. E. P. Vogel, local agricultural instructor, has had charge of the local club and deserves commendation for the results achieved.

The prize winner will be selected in each county on the following point system: Yield, 70; quality of corn as shown in exhibitions, 15, and "How I Grew My Five Acres" including the record of labor and all costs 15. As soon as the records are all in and following the Corn Show at Middletown the winner may soon be announced. The results of this contest should be a stimulus to other boys and young men to contest in corn growing in 1921.

LIMESTONE FOR FARMERS

A carload of raw ground limestone will arrive at Middletown this week to be used for demonstrational purposes, according to County Agent R. O. Bausman's report made before the Executive Committee of the New Castle County Farm Bureau at its monthly meeting held in the Security Trust Building, Wilmington, last Saturday. This limestone will be distributed among fifteen or twenty farmers and the only cost entailed will be a nominal sum covering the freight. The purpose of these demonstrations is to determine as to whether the raw ground limestone is a more practical and cheaper form of limestone than the burned or hydrated.

Mr. Bausman continued his report by stating that the boys' dairy cattle judging team which represented Delaware at the National Dairy Show held in Chicago in October was awarded twelfth place. Fifteen teams contested. High honors were awarded the Missouri team. The Delaware boys accepted their defeat like men and came back home determined to capitalize their experience and go back next year and bring home the banner.

The Farm Bureau has arranged a series of community corn shows through the county this fall. In co-operation with granges or agricultural schools, shows are scheduled to be held at Middletown, Stanton, Newport, Hockessin, Talleyville, Centreville and Harmony.

Mr. Frank Yearsley, President of the New Castle County Farm Bureau, announced that the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau would be held in Wilmington on Tuesday, November 30. The following committees were appointed: Place and program of meeting—C. P. Dickey and R. O. Bausman. Nominations and program of work—J. D. Reynolds, R. G. Buckingham, Fred Snyder, Philip Pierson and Howard Jones.

Enid Bennett in "Stepping Out," at the Opera House next Tuesday evening.

The ceremony was performed by the groom's father, the couple, who were unattended standing under an arch of asparagus fern and chrysanthemums. Miss Edith Jewell, sister of the bride, played the wedding march.

The bride was becomingly attired in a blue velour traveling suit and picture hat and carried white chrysanthemums.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception followed, with only the relatives and near friends of the bridal party present, owing to a recent death in the bride's family.

University of Delaware

Dr. Walter E. Hullihen, president of Delaware College, gave his hearty approval this week to the movement among members of the alumni of the college and prominent educators of the State to have the legislature sanction changing the institution from a college to a university status, to be known as the University of Delaware. Those advocating the change will bring the matter before the General Assembly when it convenes in January.

It is contended the State's leading educational institution can only achieve proper growth and attain a status commensurate with its standing among like institutions by being known as a State university. In order to affect the change it would be necessary for the legislature to authorize several alterations in the college's charter. Such a change was recently made with respect to the University of Virginia.

THE ANNUAL MEETING

Will be Held in Hotel duPont November 30th

A FINE PROGRAM RENDERED

The Peninsula Horticultural Society is holding its annual meeting this year in the Hotel duPont, Wilmington, Delaware, November 30, December 1 and 2, a month earlier than usual. The program will include the discussion of practical matters connected with fruit growing by the best practical growers; a full discussion of the use of fertilizers by Dr. W. D. Hurd, of Washington; Dr. W. C. Rohde, of Baltimore, and Professor Anthony, of the Pennsylvania State College; a full discussion of marketing problems, which will include a discussion of the community packing house, and the selling and distribution of farm products; the control of such diseases as apple scab, and such pests as coddling moth and other insects, and many other topics.

Both Governor Townsend, of Delaware, and Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, are expected to make addresses. John H. Barclay, of Cranbury, N. J., will discuss apple growing. Mr. Barclay has been drawing the big prizes at fruit shows. G. Hale Harrison, of Maryland, and A. N. Brown, of Delaware, will discuss orchard problems. Professor Droman, of New York, will talk on the home fruit and vegetable garden. Dr. Thomas J. Headlee, a very popular and very forceful speaker, a man of wide experience and close observation, will give up-to-date information on the control of orchard insects. Dr. Manns, of Delaware College, will take up the subject of fungus diseases and will give a special paper on "Control of Sweet Potato Diseases." Professor Detjen, of Delaware College, will give a very interesting paper on, "A Lesson From an American Prune." Mr. Arthur W. Rounds, of Newark, Del., and Professor Thomas H. It will be worth any man's while to take off three days to attend this meeting. The fruit and vegetable show itself will be too valuable for anyone to miss.

Be Careful Cider Makers

Aroused by reports that too much hard cider is being sold throughout Delaware, W. Truxton Boyce, Federal Prohibition Director, issued the following ukase: "Many complaints have come to my notice of late of persons getting drunk on hard cider in the rural sections of the State. I want it understood that the sale of cider containing more than one-half of one per cent. of alcohol is as much a violation of the prohibition laws as the sale of whiskey. "This notice is final, and no further warning will be issued. Anyone who sells cider or wines of any kind containing more than one half of one per cent. of alcohol in the future will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law." Under the law cider may be made and drank so long as it is sweet, or it may be turned into vinegar. Nor is there any law to prevent one from drinking home made cider which may have acquired an alcoholic content above that specified in the Volstead act. Both the Federal and State statutes, however, expressly forbids sales of such cider for beverage purposes.

Numerous Gunners

Not for several years have so many sportsmen and others taken advantage of the opportunity to gun for "bunny" as did last Monday. Before daylight those of better vision than the ordinary mortal were blazing away at something, maybe for the sheer delight of hearing the gun go off; for surely it took unusual vision to see a rabbit at 6 A. M.

MIDDLETOWN, DEL., NOVEMBER 20th, 1920

INDIVIDUAL GOV. AT AN END

THERE are two outstanding benefits that the defeat of Cox bestows upon the country. The great fund of statesmanship, practical business ability, and sound theories of economics represented in the membership of the Republican party is released and made available for the good of the nation. The election of a man like Senator Harding as the country's chief executive insures that the best thought of his party will be called into conference on national problems. For eight long years the country has been deprived of that reservoir of ability and experience. Not only has Republican advice been spurned by Mr. Wilson, but the best thought in his own party has been turned aside while he imposed his own personal will upon the Government.

After March 4th individual government comes to an end, and in its place will be inaugurated a government directed by the leading minds of a party that numbers within its ranks most of the brains of the country. Senator Harding has declared from the beginning that, if elected, he would seek advice. That means that not only will his Cabinet be one of the strongest that ever directed the affairs of the nation, but that Republican leaders in both Houses of Congress and in private lines of endeavor will be freely sought for suggestion.

THE FIGHT JUST BEGUN

THE huge proportions of the Republican landslide must not be permitted to drive from that party an abiding sense of the profound responsibilities which it faces. The majorities which rolled up against Wilsonism will be as readily turned upon Republicanism four years hence unless a record of accomplishment can be produced in 1924 that will merit the stamp of the voters' approval. It will be a huge task, beset with handicaps bequeathed by the retiring administration. If it is met with resolute determination to produce results in accordance with the party's platform, public confidence will be retained, but if the size of the 1920 vote fills the party with a false estimate of its power, disaster will soon follow. Republican officials in both State and Nation must keep the public welfare constantly before them, and bend all their energies in its behalf. To do so is not only sound morals but the best of politics.

Strange Hotel.

What is probably the queerest hotel and restaurant in the world is that recently erected at Atlantic City, N. J. It takes the form of a monster elephant. Seen from a distance the resemblance of the structure to a live elephant is remarkable. As you approach it its huge size becomes apparent, but you quickly observe that it is only a thing of wood and iron, but most cleverly contrived. It boasts of many beds, and a dining pavilion on the animal's back capable of accommodating two hundred people. One reaches this novel restaurant by means of a staircase which runs up through the animal's legs and body. Here and there windows give the necessary light. Needless to say the elephant hotel is causing quite an attraction, and its owner bids fair to reap a good harvest as a result of his ingenuity.

Virginia Still Holds Record.

Even with the inauguration of an Ohioan as president next March assured, as nearly as human events can be, Virginia will still hold the record for native sons in the White House. The record then will stand: Virginia, Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Wilson, 8; Ohio, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, McKinley, Taft, Harding or Cox, 7. Of Virginia's sons five were of English paternal ancestry, two Scotch, one Welsh. Of Ohio's sons three were of English paternal ancestry, two Scotch, one Scotch-Irish. We have seen no authorized statement of the paternal ancestry of Harding or Cox.

Experiments in Road Building.

In order accurately to determine the durability of the various kinds of roadway, the government bureau has a stretch of roadway at Arlington representing all the different methods of road building, and over this a heavy machine is drawn back and forth by cable. This is supposed to reproduce the action of vehicles passing over it and the results are carefully noted and compared. The result of the operations will be used as a guide to the expenditure of nearly $300,000,000 which will be made under government auspices during the next three years.

MAKING MONEY

Some men make their money in business—some in stocks—some by toilsome saving of their daily wages. But we submit to you the unquestioned fact that more men have achieved a comfortable competence through the ownership of property—houses and land which bring in a fixed income—than in any other way.

A word to the wise is enough. Watch your neighbors gradually rise in the world and then ascertain how they are doing it.

In nine cases out of ten you will find they have purchased their home or farm—often on easy terms—while their less enterprising neighbor is still paying rent.

A word to the wise is sufficient. If you have not yet started on a place of your own do not delay. Get full particulars about some of the following properties.

158 Acre Farm, near Kirkwood Station, $10,000.
74 Acre Farm, near Stanton, $10,000.
68 Acre Farm, suitable for fruit and chickens, $4,000.
146 Acre Farm, near Townsend, unimproved, $4,500.
125 Acre Farm, near Bear Station, $14,500.

Banks Should Benefit The People

Some banks are mere selfish money mills whose grist is chiefly for the benefit of a few rich stockholders with the least possible benefit to anyone else.

Hence the significance of our name "THE PEOPLES" which means that "THE PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK seeks both its own and its depositors' and customers' profit—in other words, that it is in truth a "PEOPLES" Bank.

THE NEW FARM LINE RATES

SOME of our subscribers do not understand the new rates for country telephone service.

The diagram above represents any central office and the surrounding territory.

The darkened portion in the center represents the "Base Rate Area." By this is meant the area immediately surrounding the central office, where "City" service—individual and four-party line—is given, but no farm line service.

Within the circle marked "A," which is two miles outside the "City" service area, farm line service is given at the base rate quoted in the rate schedules.

If a subscriber lives outside the circle "A" (and is more than two miles outside the "City" area), he is charged 25 cents per month for each two miles or fraction thereof, air line distance.

For instance, if he lives between "B" and "C" he will pay the base rate plus 50 cents per month.

Here is just what this means:

The farther a telephone is located from the central office, the greater our investment in poles and wires.

And the greater the cost of keeping those poles and wires in repair.

Therefore the greater the cost of providing the service.

Isn't it perfectly fair that the rate for such telephones should be slightly higher in proportion to the distance?

Isn't that reasonable?

A Reliable Remedy for Colds and Croup

It would surprise you to know the number of people who use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. J. N. Rose, Verona, Pa., writes "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used by myself and husband for a number of years for coughs and colds. I also gave it to my little granddaughter three and a half years of age when she had croup last winter. It broke up the attack at once. I have recommended this remedy to many of my friends and neighbors who have also used it with good results."

Serious Results From Colds

Colds not only cause a tremendous financial loss but are also a serious injury to every one who contracts them as they lower the vitality and prepare the system for the more serious diseases. It is not at all unusual for people who have serious lung trouble to say "I had a hard cold last winter." Why not take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and cure your cold while you can.

EXPLAINS PHONE RATE INCREASE

"Base Charge" Only on Subscribers Within 3-Mile Exchange Limit

NO DISCRIMINATION UNDER NEW PLAN

Speculation as to the increased rates for telephone service in Delaware, outside of Wilmington, which will be put into effect on December 1, was set at rest to-day by E. P. Bardo, general manager of the Diamond State Telephone Company.

The present rural line rate, or what is known as the multi-party rate, is $1.80 flat for all exchanges, except Wilmington and Holly Oak. This rate would be raised, under the proposed plans, to $2.25, as a basic rate for all exchanges except Wilmington, Holly Oak, Delmar, Sharptown, Selbyville and Whitesville. For the last four places named, the base rate will be $2. The Wilmington and Holly Oak rate will be $3, providing sanction is given by the Public Utilities Commission, which has control of the rates within the city.

The base rate applies to all subscribers within two miles of the base rate area. The base rate area comprises the corporate limits of the city or town in which the telephone exchange is located, or a radius of one mile where the corporate limits of a city or town do not extend that far.

This practically means in the case of all exchanges outside of Wilmington that the multi-party subscribers located within three miles of the central base rate office will pay the base rate only. Those located beyond the three mile radius will pay an additional charge of 25 cents a month for each two miles.

There are two reasons for such changes, Mr. Bardo said. First, the company has always charged mileage beyond the base rate for each quarter mile or fraction for individual, two-party and four-party subscribers. A four-party subscriber located two miles from the base rate pays 20 cents a month for each quarter mile or $1.60 a month in addition to the base rate. This constitutes more or less of a discrimination, which the company is desirous of correcting.

The second reason is that the expense of maintaining communication for subscribers at a distance from the central office increases naturally in accordance with the distance, both for maintenance and as investment by the company. Furthermore, the subscriber at a distance from the central office, it is held, gets service of much greater value than the subscriber in the central community.

In support of the increase in rates, Mr. Bardo pointed to the fact that there had been no reward in the form of dividends to the stockholders of the Diamond State Telephone Company for the past twelve years. "In short," he said, "the owners of the system who provide the service have had nothing. The new rates," he continued, "will provide a return, and at a fair rate only, on the money they have invested in the business."

It is the hope of the telephone company officials that decision will be reached by the Public Utilities Commission in time to make a uniform increase in rates both in Wilmington and outside, on December 1. The commission has set November 19 for a hearing on the application of the company for the proposed increase within the city.—Wilmington Evening Journal.

PAINS NEARLY DOUBLED ME UP

Nothing Helped Me Until I Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wyandotte, Mich.—"For the last four years I have doctored off and on without help. I have had pains every month so bad that I would nearly double up. Sometimes I could not sweep a room without stopping to rest, and everything I ate upset my stomach. Three years ago I lost a child and suffered so badly that I was out of my head at times. My bowels did not move for days and I could not eat without suffering. The doctor could not help me and one day I told my husband that I could not stand the pain any longer and sent him to the drug-store to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and threw the doctor's medicine away. After taking three bottles of Vegetable Compound and using two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash I could do my own housework. If it had not been for your medicine I don't know where I would be today and I am never without a bottle of it in the house. You may publish this if you like that it may help some other woman."—Mrs. MARY STENDER, 120 Orange St., Wyandotte, Mich.

Excavated.

The children in the upper grades are required to use the words of their spelling lesson in sentences to show they know the meaning of these words. "Excavated" was one of the new words for the next lesson. Henry's dictionary said "excavated" meant "hollowed out," so Henry wrote this sentence:

Back Given Out?

There's surely some reason for that lame, achy back. Likely it's your kidneys. A cold or strain ofttimes congests the kidneys and slows them up. That may be the reason for that nagging backache, those sharp pains, that tired, worn-out feeling. You may have headaches and dizzy spells, too, with annoying bladde irregularity. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands. Ask your neighbor!

Worry Takes Off Flesh Faster Than Nature Can Put It On

The lives of most women are full of worry. Men's troubles are bad enough, but women's are worse. Worry makes women sick. It pulls them down, and in their weakened condition they are subject to all the pains, aches, weaknesses that are peculiar to the sex.

Most women neglect their health, and for this neglect they pay the penalty. If a woman asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system.

It can be obtained in tablet or liquid form at any drug store.

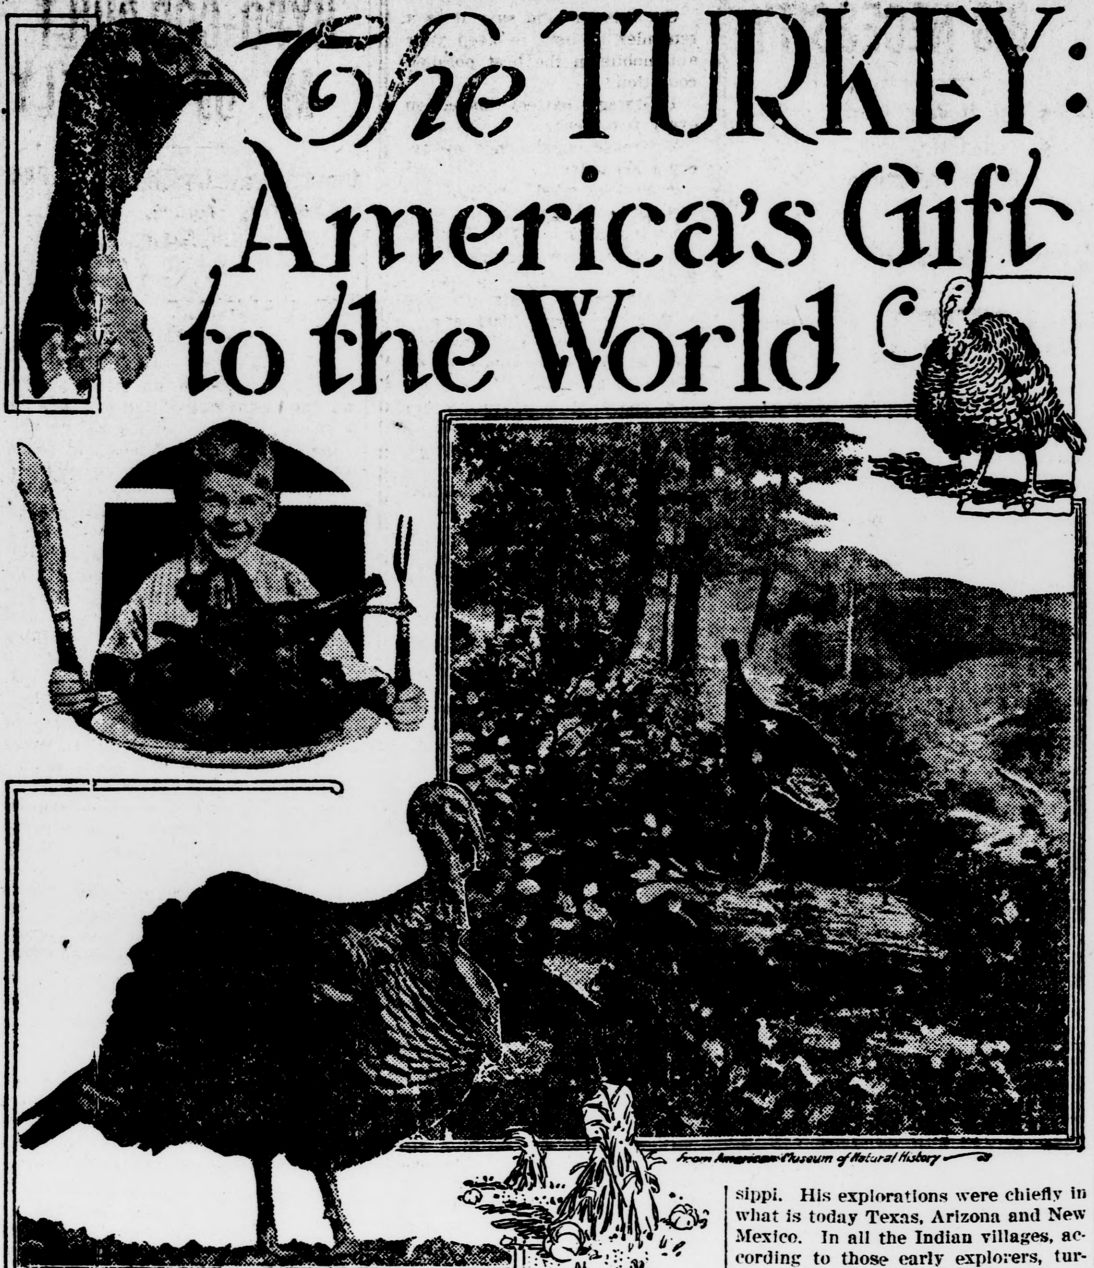
The TURKEY: America's Gift to the World



From American Museum of Natural History

TURKEY for Thanksgiving! Well, rather. Why, otherwise it wouldn't seem like a Thanksgiving dinner. And don't let's have too much else—and mighty little ahead of it. Just a simple dinner, you know—turkey with dressing and gravy, mashed potatoes, cranberries, pumpkin or mince pie with Herkimer county cheese and cider. Let it go at that. Enough is as good as a feast.

Which reminds us that no king or haughty potentate of any kind, even in prewar days when they were many, could by any human possibility have a more toothsome feast. They aren't made, you know.

Which also reminds us that the turkey is America's gift to the world.

The turkey is truly an American bird. It existed on the continent with the Indians before Columbus landed. Only a few years ago among the caves of Arizona the mummified remains of a turkey were found. Practically every cave once occupied by the cliff dwellers of that region contained the bones or feathers of the turkey, but this specimen is intact. Its age is a matter of speculation among the scientists of the National museum, where the specimen is on exhibition.

Another interesting fact in this same connection resulted from a scientific expedition which Dr. C. Hart Merriman made among the mountains of Arizona; he came across a living species of bird identical with the one found mummified and which is known to the scientific world by his name.

Another recent discovery in connection with the turkey was a Maya hieroglyphic. This piece of parchment shows a grocer's account in which is mentioned, with other things, ten turkey hens and five turkey cocks. The distinction between the two is quite apparent in the crude drawings. This is thought to be the first record of the turkey in this country and antedates the expedition of Cortes to Mexico in 1519.

But the turkey goes back further among the Indians than even the probable date at which the specimen found in the cave existed. Among the Zunis, for instance, there exist many legends handed down from time immemorial, which have for their subject the turkey.

Perhaps none is more interesting than the one which tells why his tail feathers are dark, showing, as it does, not only the place he held in the estimation of the Indians, but also a noticeable similarity to the flood story from our Bible.

Once upon a time, so the legend runs, there was a flood and the face of the world was covered with water. And the turkey, weary of continually flying, decided to seek some spot on which he might light and rest. But the other birds and animals advised him not to; and the very gods themselves warned him.

He refused, however, to heed either advice or warnings and set out in search of land. After much effort he discovered a single spot not covered by water and alighted. But he found it only deep mud. So he decided to hunt farther for some dry place on which to rest. But, alas, when he came to fly, he found his tail feathers stuck fast in the mud.

He pulled and pulled, but could not get them loose. Finally, however, after a gigantic tug, he managed to free himself. But bits of mud stuck to the end of the tail feathers. And to this day turkeys have dark spots there—a sign of their disobedience to divine command.

The turkey plays a more important part in the life of the Indian than in his legends alone. Not only is it regarded as a choice article of food, but in many tribes it is held sacred. In the parts of the country where curious devotion to animals characterizes different stages in the development of civilization—it was never eaten except when other food was unobtainable.

Turkey feathers rank next in importance to those of the eagle with all tribes, while the Apaches, the Pamunkeys and Cheyennes chose the turkey's feathers for all ceremonial headdresses and ornaments. The Pamunkey tribe also used turkey feathers for ornamental purposes on their clothing, as well as for their headgears. To this day, when they don their native costumes, the turkey feather is preferred as ornament.

If Benjamin Franklin's words had been heeded, the turkey would have been the national bird of the United States. The eagle is a first cousin to the species known of old in the eastern hemisphere. Furthermore, it has appeared upon the banners of many nations. It was a symbol of the Roman empire. It was known in China for ages, and today it appears upon the banners of Russia, Germany and several other nations.

The turkey, however, is indigenous to America. When the early European adventurers and settlers arrived they beheld great flocks of turkeys, and it soon became known that they were a favorite food among the Indians. After a while turkeys were proudly sent home as trophies of the chase. In this way the turkey became practically a world-favorite as a food.

When Cortes in 1519 ascended to the plateau of Mexico he found a social life developed to a high degree of refinement. He was entertained with oriental magnificence. All the delicacies to be found within the empire were set before him, and though game was abundant, the turkey held the place of honor among the fowl. This was the first time that the Spaniards had eaten turkey.

North of the Rio Grande the turkey was equally well known and treasured. The celebrated expedition of Coronado, between 1527 and 1547, penetrated this unexplored region west of the Mississippi. His explorations were chiefly in what is today Texas, Arizona and New Mexico. In all the Indian villages, according to those early explorers, turkeys were to be found, both wild and domesticated.

Cortes, in one of his famous letters written about 1518, mentions the turkey. He carried specimens of the bird to Spain in 1520, where they came into immediate popularity, and the breeding of turkeys soon became established. It was then that the turkey became known as "pavos," on account of his relationship to the peacock, which was then called "pavo real"—the fowl of kings.

It was a long time before the turkey reached France, as far as can be learned from history, for the first turkey eaten there was at the wedding of Charles IX and Elizabeth of Austria, June 27, 1579, or 50 years after Spain had first tasted the bird. The turkey supplied for the wedding came from "somewhere in the American wilderness."

Its introduction into England seems to have been in 1524. But, whenever it was, it soon came into popular favor and was given such local names as Black Norfolk and Large Cambridge.

It is an interesting fact that these descendants of the parent stock were carried back again across the Atlantic ocean to New England, where, crossed with the original turkey already there, they began the breed that has spread from one end of the country to the other.

Many have been the explanations made as to how the bird now so popular at Thanksgiving came to be called the turkey, most of which, to the true scientist, are nothing but fanciful. The bird was called turkey because it was supposed to come from Turkey, where it was known as an Egyptian hen. The markets of north Europe received this fowl as coming from south Europe, directly or indirectly from Turkey. In France, however, the bird was called "dindon," or in the feminine "dinde," as though it were the fowl d'Inde—from India.

But whatever dispute has arisen as to the name of the turkey, the fact yet remains that the turkey is indigenous to America. Although scientists believe it is possible that there was a species, the original of the present turkey, indigenous to the West India islands, it is generally conceded that all turkeys have descended in some way or other from the three forms known today as the North American, the Mexican and the Honduras, the ocellated variety.

The Mexican turkey is found wild throughout the republic. It appears to be the species first taken to Spain and other European countries. It is thought that the white markings of the variety of domestic turkey known today as the Narragansett come from this species.

Whatever the turkey may have missed through failing to secure that place of honor suggested for it by Benjamin Franklin—as the national bird—it has nevertheless found a place in the regard of the American people which is held by no other fowl—at least at Thanksgiving.

Is Nature's Acrobat

Performs Stunts While Gradually Drawing Within Striking Distance of Its Prey.

The weasel has been called the acrobat of nature. It performs every kind of acrobatic feat. It does not, however, perform merely for the pleasure to be obtained from the performance, not yet to give pleasure to others. There is a far more deadly purpose behind its somersaults, explains London Answers.

The weasel adopts this method of approaching its victims with a view to attacking them. It does not attempt to hide itself from its prey, but gradually, performing all the time, approaches nearer until within striking distance of its unsuspecting prey.

The blood-thirsty little villain is by no means a coward. It will attack human beings; and cows that trespass for the purpose of feeding on grass within the vicinity of the home of one of these little creatures do not escape.

The weasel can climb as easily as run along the road and it is equally at home on any surface. The top of a hedge presents no difficulties to the weasel; it will travel along this as quickly and easily as along the smoothest pathway.

Intelligent Parrot.

Locke's "Essay on the Human Understanding" refers to a parrot which had the faculty for answering questions sensibly. When the governor of Brazil was introduced to it he asked the bird: "What do you do here?" "I look after chickens," was the ready reply. "You look after chickens?" roared the governor, with a burst of laughter. "Yes," retorted the bird, "and I know how to do it," at the same time clucking like a broody hen.

Pray for the Tenant

Prayers for the "softening of an extortionate landlord's heart" were offered up the other day at the Episcopal healing mission at Christ Church cathedral.

The request for the prayers came from a woman, and it was read aloud to about 300 persons who had gathered for the healing, which was under the direction of Rev. Rufus D. S. Pitney. At the conclusion of the reading of the letter, time was allowed for silent prayer for the woman with a hard-hearted landlord.

In the letter the woman said her rent had been advanced and she was about to be evicted because she could not afford to pay the advance. "Pray that my landlord's heart may be softened," she wrote.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

HAD NERVOUS BREAK-DOWN

But Health Restored to Texas Lady, Who Is Now Well and Strong, Able to Do All Her Housework and More.

Rosebud, Texas.—Mrs. Annie Lange, of R. F. D. No. 4, this place, writes as follows regarding her experience with Cardui: "Some time ago I had a nervous breakdown of some kind . . . I was very weak, and so nervous. It all seemed to come from . . . trouble, for at . . . I had fainting spells and suffered a great deal, but more from the weak, trembly, no-account feeling than anything else. I knew I needed a tonic, and needed it badly.

"I began the use of Cardui, to see if I couldn't get some strength, as I knew of other cases that had been helped by its use. I felt better . . . I soon saw a great improvement, so kept it up.

"I used seven bottles of Cardui, and can say the money was well spent, for I grew well and strong. Now able to do all my housework and a great deal of work besides."

If you are run-down, weak, nervous, and suffer from the ailments peculiar to women, it is very likely that Cardui will help you, in the way it has helped thousands of others, during the past 40 years.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Womens' complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

WRONG IDEA OF THE BLIND

Representative Schall, member of the house of representatives from Minnesota, is blind, and has been for ten years. During this time he says that he has discovered that the seeing world has strange ideas as to the limitations of the blind; that it seems to think because a man can't see he can neither hear nor feel, and is a strange, detached piece o. human mechanism that is not to be reckoned with directly, but through the guiding hand.

Not long ago Mr. Schall was returning from his home in Minneapolis to Washington, accompanied only by his small son Douglas. The first morning they appeared in the diner the waiter assigned to their table inquired of young Douglas: "Son, what does your father want?"

"Why, ask him," quickly replied the child, "he knows what he wants. As for me, bring me pancakes and sausage and chocolate!"

RADIUM'S USE IN SURGERY

Its Rays So Powerful That They Can Destroy the Useless or Diseased Tissue.

The use of radium in hospitals is becoming more and more demanded by the medical profession. The Scientific American, in telling of its medical and surgical uses, explains that it is a tool and not a medicine. The radium gives off three rays, known as the alpha, beta and gamma rays. The first, about 85 per cent of the total ray force, can be stopped by tissue paper; the second will penetrate 35 millimeters of lead, while the third has a vibration similar to the X-ray. This ray is the one used in surgery.

The rays are sent into the body, and so powerful are they that they can penetrate to a great depth, and there destroy the useless or diseased tissue. As the good tissue has a greater resistance than the bad, the highly skilled operative can bear the gamma rays on the afflicted part until they begin to destroy the good tissue, when the treatment must stop.

SPARE TIRE IS BIG NECESSITY

Years Ago It Was Four but Today an Extra One Is of Much Importance.

SLIPPED ON WITHOUT DELAY

Investment Is Due to the Growing Observance of Old Adage That an Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure.

How many tires are required on an automobile?

A few years ago this question would have invoked the sarcastic retort: "Four, of course, you boob," but not so nowadays.

Today motorists are thinking in terms of five tires as complete equipment for a car. The day of "four-tire" equipment has passed for good. Motorists have learned that the purchase of "spares" is a sound investment which is sure to pay big dividends.

Spare Tire Necessary.

Notice the cars that pass on the roads these days. Virtually every one has at least one spare strapped in the holder at the rear, ready to be slipped on a wheel without a moment's delay in case one of the "working" tires collapses.

This almost universal acceptance of the spare tire as a part of a car's necessary equipment is not due to belief that tires are not as good as they used to be. Motorists know that the tires they buy at present are superior in every way to the tires they used to buy. They are built from more carefully selected material by improved methods which give them many extra miles of life.

Purchase of spares is due to the growing observance of the old adage that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Motorists have learned that accidents may happen to the best of tires, and they want to be on the safe side.

If they have a spare tire handy they are spared lots of tiring work in repairing the old casing and tube, spared lots of cause for cussing, and spared lots of annoying delays. The old tire can be taken off and the spare put on in half the time it used to take to begin the repairing process.

Save Motorists Money.

In the long run the motorist is saved money by buying spares, even if the original investment is considerable. With a good spare handy which he can put on without much trouble, the car owner is not likely to delay having tire injuries repaired, or to ruin a tire by running it back to town "flat." He puts on the spare, has the old tire repaired, and no serious damage is done.

Provision for carrying spare tires is now being made by the designers of practically all cars. The spare tire-holder is being considered as necessary a part of the car as the headlights, fenders, upholstered seats or top. The spare tires are being recognized as an institution which cannot be dispensed with.

OIL GAUGE VERY IMPORTANT

Guardian of Lubrication System Keeps Tab on Proper Functioning of That Feature.

There are quite a number of motorists who would refuse to buy a car that did not have all the fixings on the dash, including an oil gauge of some sort. Once they are sure that the thing is on the instrument board, however, they forget all about it and never pay any attention to it. Watch the little gauge just as carefully as you do any of the instruments, for it is guardian of the lubrication system to inform you of any improper functioning of that very important feature of the engine.

REMEMBER THESE POINTS

Cut this out and save it as a reminder of how to keep your automobile in the best possible condition:

1. Storage battery inspection every two weeks.
2. Grease cups turned up every 1,000 miles.
3. Springs oiled weekly.
4. Oil and gasoline connections inspected weekly.
5. Crank case drained and washed out every 500 miles.
6. Universal joints packed with grease every 1,000 miles.
7. Differential and transmission packed with grease or oil every 1,000 miles.
8. Spark plugs cleaned every 1,000 miles.
9. Carbon removed from cylinders twice a year.
10. Valves ground every 5,000 miles.
11. New piston rings every 18 months.
12. Wheels aligned once a month.
13. Wheel bearings inspected monthly.
14. Carburetor cleaned monthly.
16. Self-starter inspected every month.
16. Steering wheels and knuckles inspected weekly.
17. Brakes tested and equalized monthly.

EXHAUST UTILIZED FOR HEAT

Flow of Burnt Gases Through the System of Heating Pipes Regulated by Operator.

The Scientific American in illustrating and describing an automobile heater, the invention of T. C. Crouch of Saskatoon, Canada, says:

This improvement has particular reference to a heater controlled by the exhaust from the engine. The heater casing is adjustably mounted upon a suitable support in the vehicle whereby the same may be moved to a position preferably beneath a seat and also adjusted in such a manner as to be employed as a foot-warmer. The invention provides a heater casing wherein a system of heating pipes is connected to the exhaust of the engine and the flow of burnt gases through said pipes regulated by a valve mechanism controlled by the operator.

AFTER SICKNESS HYPO-COD BUILT ME UP QUICKLY

Drove Away Cough, Aches and Nervous Trouble. Helped Digestion.

FEELS FINE AND IS BACK TO WORK

"I lingered around for weeks following the 'Flu' last winter. I was so nervous that I would have palpitations and couldn't sleep. Aches and pains in my side and cramps in my stomach worried me a lot and I had a troublesome cough which I could not get rid of. Then it was that I decided to try Hypo-Cod and I'm glad I did. It put me back on my feet, free of all my troubles and back to work like magic. It relieved me of the cough and nervous trouble. I started sleeping nicely and the pains and cramps in my side and stomach vanished. It surely is a good medicine and as a health builder will put new energy in anyone who takes it," declared Joseph R. Newman, a well known railroader at Cheltenham, Md.

After a spell of sickness the patient should at once take a good modern and powerful tonic. It means quicker recovery and wards off complications so apt to follow while the system is in a weakened, rundown condition. If in need of a good tonic give Earle's Hypo-Cod a trial. Drop in at the drug store tonight and read formula on bottle, ask your druggist about it. Then take home a bottle.—Adv.

Mr. Blank smiled, but his goatee shook forbiddingly in the boy's face, which was clouded with suspicion, in spite of his father's reassuring words. Willie only stared for a moment and then exclaimed, thinking hard of the wisp of hair on the caller's chin:

Recognizing Them.

Her parents had started with nothing; had succeeded in amassing a fortune; had given her a splendid education, and had sent her abroad to study music. She was cultured, but her parents were still as ingenuous as the day when they were married. They went to see "The Passing Show." When a pair of acrobats did their turn the mother became excited, and said, so that everybody could hear her, "Sadie, Sadie! Do you remember what I said about them two fellers I saw in the hippodrome in Cleveland?"

"Yes."

"Well, them there are 'em."—Indianapolis News.

Still Useful.

Mrs. A—— had just finished cutting her five-year-old daughter's hair and was preparing to throw away the clippings when the youngster asked: "Mother, what are you going to do with the hair you cut off my head?"

"Why, throw it away, of course," answered Mrs. A——, a trifle impatiently. "Why, what made you ask?"

"Oh, I thought maybe you would save it to patch father's with," returned the youngster. "It needs it bad enough."—Indianapolis News.

A Reliable Remedy for Colds and Croup

It would surprise you to know the number of people who use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. J. N. Rose, Verona, Pa., writes "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used by myself and husband for a number of years for coughs and colds. I also gave it to my little granddaughter three and a half years of age when she had croup last winter. It broke up the attack at once. I have recommended this remedy to many of my friends and neighbors who have also used it with good results."

Dr. Louis Levinson, veterinarian. Graduate of University of Pennsylvania. Middletown, Del. Bell Phone 119. North Broad Street.

Inexpensive Perfection in Farm Buildings

Practical experience, no less than scientific test, has definitely settled the fact that the wooden house is dryer and warmer than one built of any other material. It is therefore more healthful and more comfortable. This is just as true of the barns which shelter your stock as of the house which shelters your family.

We can show you a wood—North Carolina Pine—with which you can build your home, barns, sheds, silo, etc., at low cost and with every assurance of complete satisfaction.

If you are interested in up-to-date farm buildings we can get for you free an excellent book which ordinarily retails for $1.00. It contains plans, elevations and details of practically every kind of farm building.
